Stern opposition to the Emperor's autocratic and erratic policy in the upper circles of the empire had reached the point of periost before the publication of the interview and the acute phase of the Casabianca incident. The authorities of Bavaria, Baxony, Wurtemberg and Baden, had already determined to outh, if possible, the Kaller's activities and their powers in this direction are conceded. It is their intention especially to insist that the Emperor no longer octate the foreign policy of the empire. to take charge of the funds. Upon this an appeal was taken by the commission to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, wherein Judge Pritchard was sustained.

Connts May Clash,

The case is now before the United States Supreme Court, the commission having applied there for a writ of certiforari. A W. Ray purchased a claim against the commissioners in the State court, and recovered a judgment. This, however, the commissioners were unable to pay, under the former order of Judge Pritchard, and did refuse to pay.

Ray thereupon went to the Supreme Court of South Carolina to be court of South Carolina and procued a writ of mandamus, to compet the commissioners were day to the computationers of case the sudgest.

Pritchard, and did refuse to pay.
Ray thereupon went to the Supreme Court of South Carolina and procured a writ of mandamus, to compet the commissioners to pay the judgment.
The present contempt proceedings are instituted on account of the attempted violation of Judge Pritchard's order, which is to the effect that no amounts be paid out of the fund, except by an order of this court.

It is said that there is a determined effort on the part of the State's representatives to bring about a conflict between the State and Federal courts, as in the litigation is involved the paramount issue of the sovereignty of the State. The ruling of the United States courts this far has invariably been against the State, and rather favorable to the claims of the distillers.
